The Bailey Alliance SE 76-2T is a versatile 4-berth motorhome built on a 2.2L Peugeot Boxer chassis with a 165bhp engine and 6-speed manual gearbox. With its stylish silver cab, graphite alloy wheels, and Thule wind-out awning, it looks the part while offering plenty of practical features for touring. Inside, the layout includes two fixed single beds at the rear and a front lounge that converts into a double, making it ideal for couples or families. The well-equipped kitchen features a Thetford Triplex oven/grill, three-burner hob, Dometic fridge, and microwave, while the washroom offers a separate shower, toilet, and vanity unit. Comfort is assured with Truma Combi 4E heating and hot water, ambient lighting, and Bailey's premium 'Finchley' soft furnishings. Extra highlights include a 100W Truma solar panel, gas BBQ point, exterior 230V socket, reversing camera, cab air conditioning, cruise control, and SatNav, ensuring convenience both on and off the road.
